Mallorca Welcomes New Tourist Attraction, The House of Katmandu™

For Immediate Release

Mallorca, SPAIN - (December 1, 2006) - In Spring 2007, the entertainment industry's hippest new theme attraction, The House of Katmandu™, will open in Europe's hottest travel destination, the island of Mallorca, Spain. Located right in the centre of Magalluf, The House of Katmandu™ (www.houseofkatmandu.com) will open its doors to the public in April 2007.

Director Manolo Del Rio Lopez, explains what's in store for tourists next season, "Our group has invested approximately 20 million euro to create an amazing interactive experience that transports guests to a fantastical world filled with the intriguing sites, sounds, and legends of the Himalayas."

But the most intriguing site of all may be the house itself - an enormous, upside-down Tibetan-style mansion which seems to have fallen straight out of the sky. And while the eye-popping exterior is destined to be the talk of Mallorcan tourists, Lopez believes the real buzz will begin once visitors experience the world inside, "There's never been anything like The House of Katmandu™. This is a completely new concept in entertainment that allows guests to encounter a collection of the world's rarest relics along with a cast of colourful characters on a fast-paced interactive adventure. Tourists from ages 6 to 66 will all find something fun so the attraction is perfect for the whole family."

Guests will move through a series of rooms as the House tells the story of its owner, Kilgore Goode. A rugged adventurer on a life-long quest for a legendary red jewel, Kilgore's strange tale involves an ancient monk, a mysterious sherpa, a magnificent mermaid princess and most illusive of all, the yeti - a legendary, large-footed snow beast of the Himalayas. Starting in the warehouse, visitors will learn the legend of these characters as their self-guided tour takes them through the Galley of Plunders, the Workshop of Wonders, the Library of Illusions, Katmandu Valley, the Genetics Lab, the Chamber of Pain, and finally, the Cave of Shivers. All the while, the adventure unfolds around every corner as the suspense builds to the inevitable yeti encounter.

The House of Katmandu™ is a full-service attraction complete with a gift shop and free-standing restaurant and bar. For more information, please contact manolo@houseofkatmandu.com or 34 971 13 46 60.
